REGENTS AGREE TO REDUCE BY 25% EXPENSES

Finances Laid Before the Legislature by the Board

DISAGREE IN CHANGE

Hill Will Return to Austin for Hearing Monday

Meeting of the Board of Regents at San Marcos; hearing of the appropriation bill before the Senate Finance Committee; and setting the hearing of the House bill for next Monday in which it is proposed to reduce W. T. to a junior college, has been the development of the past week.

President J. A. Hill returned Friday from the Regents meeting much encouraged at the outlook of the college situation. Resolutions were adopted by the Regents which were transmitted to the legislature.

The Senate Finance committee accepted the proposal of the Teachers Colleges to reduce appropriations 25% and asked the presidents to submit a new budget in three weeks based upon the reductions. The Senate committee agreed upon an appropriation for summer schools on the 25% reduction basis. Plans are being drawn for the summer session in all the teachers colleges.

The House Appropriations committee had set for hearing the appropriations bills for teachers colleges the latter part of this week, but decided Tuesday to postpone the hearing until a later time. The House bill of Anderson, Hughes and Metcalfe to reduce most of the teachers colleges to junior colleges has been set for a public hearing on Monday. Dr. Hill will leave Saturday for Austin to attend this hearing.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Regents:

"1. That the board of regents of the state teachers' colleges has had at its meetings for months past knowledge that rigid economy in the conduct and carrying on of every department or institution supported in whole or in part by public funds derived from taxation in any form or source is vitally necessary, and this sentiment has been shared by the presidents of the colleges over which the board has general or limited jurisdiction.

Least Injury

"2. That much thought and investigation and plans to meet such necessities with the least injury to the usefulness of said colleges has had consideration heretofore, as evidenced by a resolution passed by said board in their annual meeting held May 9 and 19, 1932, heading the presentation by the board of its budgets to the board of control.

"We are presenting to you budgets for the next two years for the

The honor came to him Sunday afternoon while playing on the College Golf Course, and was accomplished on No. 8, which is 165 yards.

Insurance Rates in Canyon Hiked by Heavy Losses

Fire insurance rates in Canyon have been increased 15% owing to the heavy losses sustained during the past year. According to notice from the State Fire Marshal, the ratio of insurance premiums and losses is .618%. The total premiums collected last year amounted to about $20,000 and the companies paid back in losses something like $12,000.

The loss of the good fire record will cost the policy holders in the city during the coming year about $3,000 in additional premiums.

Seed Loan Blanks Have Not Yet Been Received in City

No loans on perishable crops only will be made by the crop production loan office, Owen W. Sherrill, southwest regional manager, told members of the final approval board and of the field and office staff at the Baker hotel, Dallas Unless some other crop is offered on which a lien may be taken, the loan cannot be made, Mr. Sherrill explained, referring particularly to truck farming.

Farmers who are delinquent in repayment of two or more prior loans will be limited to $100 apiece it was reported. Acreage reduction up to 30 per cent is authorized as a requirement before a loan will be granted and this will be enforced except in the case of smaller producers and growers of perennials, Mr. Sherrill said.

The maximum loan to individuals will be $300 instead of $400 as last year, while loans for farms with several tenants will be limited to $1,200. The interest rate will remain at 5½ per cent, with obligations due Oct. 31.

Blanks and detailed regulations for making loans in Randall county have not been received by the local committee composed of W. C. Black, R. O. Allison and T. C. Thompson. As soon as the blanks arrive, further information will be available for farmers through the office of W. H. Upchurch, county agent.

STATE ASKS THAT COUNTY PAY INTEREST

Assumes 80% of Highway Bonds Outstanding in Randall

NO MONEY IN SIGHT

Randall Had Made No Provision to Care for Payment

The state has assumed 79.26% of the outstanding highway bonds of Randall county, according to a preliminary report received from the commission established to handle this matter. But at the same time Randall county is notified that two-thirds of the principal and interest due this year must be met by the county owing to a shortage of funds on the part of the state. Randall county has not provided funds to take care of this extra expense and has so notified the commission that it will not have the money on March 15th to meet this request.

The Commissioners Court had figured that the state would assume about 80 per cent of the outstanding highway bonds, and had made provision to take care of the principal and interest for the balance. The county was advised by the commission last fall not to provide for the principal and interest in the budget and tax rate for this year, and followed this advice in lowering the tax rate. There will be due on March 15th, $4,000 in principal and $5,700 in interest, or a total of $9,700 on the part which is assumed by the state. The county is called upon to pay $4,125.38, for which no provision has been made in the budget, and for which no taxes have been levied.

Judge S. B. Orton and Miss Olive V. Schramm, County Treasurer, have written to the commission, giving the facts that the county cannot meet this extra obligation for which no provision was made. Senator Clint Small has been advised of the situation and asked to call upon the commission asking for further consideration as to Randall county's bonds. Senator Small has handled the bond question for many of the Panhandle counties before the commission.

Bomb for Roosevelt

The second attempt in a week was made upon the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday, when a bomb was intercepted in the mails.

The bomb was a crudely built affair, but so made as to explode when the wrapper was removed.

Postal authorities were suspicious when the package was found addressed to the President-elect. Secret service men are seeking the sender at Watertown, N. Y., from which the package was mailed.

Trial of Frank Hays Postponed Until Saturday

The case of Frank Hays was continued Monday and will be heard Saturday, states Judge S. B. Orton.

A complaint was filed against Hays last week by Sheriff R. N. Barnett for refusing to issue a search warrant requested by the Sheriff. Hays is Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 4, South Amarillo. The Sheriff was forced to go into Amarillo after District Judge Henry S. Bishop, who issued the search warrant which had been refused by Hays.

As a result of the complaint filed against him, Hays resigned as Justice of the Peace, but later filed a request to withdraw the resignation. These petitions were not acted upon last week by the Commissioners Court.

Attorneys for Hays indicate that they will present to the court decisions in similar cases in which officials had refused to grant the request for search warrants, and had been upheld when appeals were made. Hays is out on bond in the amount of $500.

MUSEUM WILL BE COMPLETE BY SATURDAY

Floor Will Be Put In Basement by the Contractor

NEED MORE FUNDS

April 14th Set as the Time for Dedication of Building

Although not all of the money necessary has been paid in, work has been started to put in the basement floor of the museum building, now nearing completion on the College campus. L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, states that he hopes to be able to collect a sufficient amount to pay for the floor before the time for the dedication on April 14th. He is urging all who have not paid their pledges to do so at once, and asks others who have not made subscriptions to see him. He has received several new subscriptions in the past two weeks.

Frank Litle, contractor, is giving the free use of his machinery and the time of his foreman to oversee the work. He is furnishing men to run the machinery at half their usual wage. Other labor for putting in the floor is being donated.

Mr. Sheffy states that it is likely the program for the dedication on April 14th will be held in the basement of the museum. Whether the dinner will be a formal affair or an old fashioned chuck wagon feed has not been decided. A man living near Lockney has a chuck wagon which he wishes to donate to the museum, and this may be used in the dedication program.

Mr. Sheffy states that no collection will be taken at the dedication program. He hopes to have all of the old timers of the Plains who have so greatly assisted in the erection of the building here to attend the dedication of the building. All of the old time citizens will be invited to attend the dedication.

Work on the museum will be finished within the coming week states Mr. Litle. Part of the furniture was moved in this week and as rapidly as the rooms are finished, other furniture and cases will be placed in the building. Several new display cases are being finished in the manual training department of the college which will be placed in the main room on the first floor. Most of the material now on display in the administration building will be moved to the new museum building about the first of March so that more than a month's time will be given to the displaying of the relics and other materials.

Mr. Sheffy states that more display cases will be needed for the museum. A request has been made of the legislature for an appropriation of $4,000 in order to buy display cases. This item was elimin-

WHY FINANCIERS GET GRAY

Summer School is Announced for W. T.

Twelve Weeks Term Authorized by the Board of Regents

"There will be a summer school."

This important statement was made at a called meeting of W. T.'s faculty last Friday afternoon by President J. A. Hill.

Dr. Hill had just returned from San Marcos and Austin where he attended a meeting of the State Board of Teachers College Regents. The Regents instructed him, he said, to make preparations for the usual summer session. The opening date has already been announced in the regular catalogue as June 5.

Work Up to Standard

Members of the regular faculty will carry on the work of the summer session, which will have as many special features as can be arranged.

Class work of the highest possible order, student excursions, and inexpensive and wholesome recreation schemes are among the things planned for the great number of teachers who expect to be here this summer.

Letters already received in great numbers show that many teachers have been keenly anxious to know if their plans to attend W. T. next summer could be carried out. Hundreds of teachers will be relieved to know that they can get their summer work without travelling long distances.

Cool Climate Draws Studes

Among the comments concerning the summer school made by members of the faculty Friday was that of Professor T. M. Moore who said, "If teachers in warmer sections of the State could know the climatic advantages of Canyon our summer school would be the largest in the state."

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, chairman of the publications committee and his co-workers are preparing the summer bulletin, which had been delayed pending instructions from the Regents.

Buffaloes Take Fast Game Monday

Ancient Foe From Kansas Is Conquered by Tall Texans

In one of the most thrilling games of the season, the Buffaloes defeated the Southern Kansas Stage Lines basketball team Monday night by a score of 30 to 23. The visitors were the only outfit which have defeated the Buffs in every game played until Monday night, and were responsible for the Buff elimination at the National A. A. U. tournament in Kansas City last March.

The visitors showed flashes of spectacular play, but the tall Texans ruled the tip-off and kept the ball so much the visitors were unable to display their championship form.

The work of Giant Joe Fortenberry, Buffalo center, on the tip-offs and under the basket on offense irritated the Stage Liners to a point of distraction more than once, causing four of them to get called down by technical fouls.

Don Morris, former University of Wichita guard, was the outstanding member of the title-seeking Kansas team. His offensive work in putting the ball into play thrilled the crowd, that spent the greater part of its time booing the antics of the visitors.

Fortenberry started the scoring on the first play of the game. On the opening tip-off he guided the ball to a teammate, raced down and took a pass under the basket for a crip shot.

The Buffs led 16 to 11, at the half.

On several occasions the Stage Liners' fast-breaking offense sent the Buffs searching for a system that would stop them, but too often the Texans stole the ball and took it out of danger.

Despite the loss, Renfro, S. K. S. L. forward, led the scoring parade.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 PER YEAR

PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION MEMBER 1932

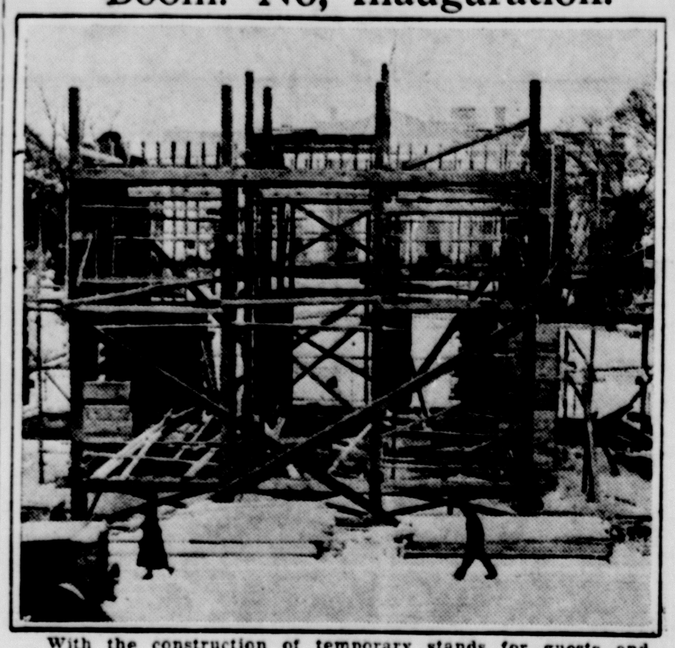
The News has had a great deal to say about the Museum Building now nearing completion on the College campus. We are making this final appeal—or at least we trust this will be the final appeal necessary. There are not sufficient funds to put in the basement floor; but the work is being done, hoping that the patriotic citizens of the community will pay the necessary money before the time of dedication on April 14th. A number have not paid their subscriptions in full. There are many citizens who have paid nothing on the building; there are perhaps others who could increase their subscriptions. The pleasure of the dedication will not be marred by taking up a collection. The people are not going to be invited to Canyon to the dedication service for the purpose of passing the hat. The dedication should be a gathering of the real old timers of Northwest Texas—the builders of this great empire—many of whom have done the magnificent thing in contributions. A final appeal is being issued that all have a part in this building. All of the work in connection with the basement floor is being contributed, and a part of of the material. But $400 in cash is needed right now to pay for the balance of the material which goes into the basement floor. L. F. Sheffy has done an almost impossible job in collecting nearly $30,000 in cash during these hard times, and the citizens should assist him in the final drive to make the building complete before moving day comes, and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society takes charge of the building. Your money is greatly needed, and will be used for a good purpose.

The story of Russia as told by those familiar with the real story is most interesting. When the 5-Year Plan was undertaken, the nations were fearful that Russia would flood the world with cheap agricultural products as well as cheap manufactured articles. The story of Russia recalls the old addage: "Every man to his own field." Stalin dreams of a great industrial Russia. He built tremendous plants, which would be a credit to any country. But the machinery is useless with no one to operate it. He wiped out the farmers who showed initiative and had accumulated for themselves small holdings and were prosperous. As a result, instead of having a great surplus of food stuffs in Russia today, the nation is on a half starvation ration, which is being doled out by the government; the factories are idle, for the lack of trained operators. Today Russia is a menace to no one but itself. Its tremendous resources are undeveloped, as the government is determined to operate everything. For the past few years there are those in America who would put the government into all lines of business, and have been doing so at a rapidly increasing speed. Perhaps America may take a lesson from Russia, that the government cannot successfully run all phases of business.

The good people of Amarillo are doing a notable work in the community kitchens. Had these not been established, hunger, disease and death would have visited hundreds of homes in that city. Credit will never adequately be given to those who are laboring unselfishly for the benefit of the unfortunate. Instead of receiving proper credit and praise, they are being paid in the usual manner—ugly rumors about the manner in which the kitchens are being conducted; the kind of food being served, and graft, the usual pay that is extended to citizens who are trying to do something for their community and for suffering humanity. All of the criticism and false charges are directed by those who have done nothing, have given nothing, and intend to do nothing. They seek to shield their own cussedness by a smokescreen of falsehood against upright citizens of the community. Amarillo is not the only community infested by this sort of people. It is unfortunate that every town has such a class in larger or smaller numbers.

It is no wonder that our presidents and ex-presidents die early. We succeed in killing them long before the end of their natural life should come. From the time a man is seriously considered as a possible candidate by his party, through the campaign for the nomination and election, until the time he takes office and during the tenure of the same, he is in constant danger. No matter how fearless the man may be, the fact that he is constantly accompanied by armed guards, and the fact that he knows his life to be in danger will naturally cause untold anxiety among the members of his family, and this must of necessity be reflected through the man himself. The fact that there are six living wives of ex-presidents and no living ex-president might indicate something of the terrific strain to which we subject our presidents, causing their death in the years when they could be the most useful to their country.

Boom? No, Inauguration!



With the construction of temporary stands for guests and speakers to occupy on Inauguration Day, the White House neighborhood has begun to take on the appearance of a building boom. Here, in front of the White House, is one of the stands from which citizens will view the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president on March 4.

The News has word from Austin that Representatives Tarwater, Rogers and Alexander have successfully killed for the time being at least the proposal to do away with the gasoline refund for farmers. Mr. Tarwater was author of the original bill four years ago. The provision to abolish the refund has been killed by the committee. Mr. Rogers has issued an appeal to the farmers not to abuse the refund. The reason for attempting to abolish this provision comes from the fact that it is charged that fully a million dollars annually is taken by farmers and others who are not entitled to the refund. To abuse the law will make it absolutely necessary to repeal it at some later date. The farmers may find that they do not have such loyal friends in the legislature to defend their cause if the abuse continues.

The newspapers and mails are being flooded with protests against the sales tax in Texas. It is charged by those favoring such a tax that this propaganda is being sponsored by big interests who are seeking to oppose all kinds of new taxes, and are not favorable to reduction of the ad valorem tax. It is stated that most of those who oppose the sales tax do not own real estate, and therefore oppose any shift of taxes from the home and real estate owners to business transactions. The Ferguson proposal of 3% on each and every sale is unjust. If the sales tax is imposed, it should be at only one place, and then not over 1% or 2%. It is likely that the Governor advocates the 3% for the purpose of getting a 2% compromise.

The Dallas Journal and other leading newspapers of the state oppose the bills in the legislature which would greatly increase tuition in the state's colleges. If a great increase is made in tuition charges, the state will be the loser. Many boys and girls will be driven from the colleges of the state, as thousands of them now are barely able to continue with their work. The state owes them an opportunity to improve themselves in order to be better citizens in the years to come. A slight increase will not be opposed as the law provides now for only $30 for the nine months term. This could be increased to $40 or $45 without great material damage to the students. But to place the tuition as high as $90 or $150, as advocated by some, would be disastrous to the young men and young women of the state.

The For Swap department of the News was liberally used last week. We hope that it will continue to be used for all who have something they wish to dispose of. The free service will continue for a few more weeks, if the people of the county are interested in swapping. Bring in your list of swaps by Wednesday noon.

"Oh! I THOUGHT YOU WERE Mr. Jones"

IT'S a bad moment—when you realize you've spoken to some one you don't know. Everybody makes mistakes, of course, but no matter how much poise you have, you feel a bit silly anyhow.

The chances are you didn't know Mr. Jones really well—or you'd never have made the blunder. You've never seen any one you'd actually mistake for your brother or sister or husband or wife, have you? It's casual acquaintance that leads to errors.

Just as people look alike, so do golf balls and flower seeds and hats and glasses of ginger ale. But, if you want to buy a Jones hat and you know all there is to know about a Jones hat, you're not likely to blunder and get one made by some one else. The same is true for a Sockem Golf ball or a bottle of Whoosis Pale Dry.

The easiest way to know everything there is to know about such things is to read advertising. The advertisements in this newspaper are here to tell you quickly and truthfully the important facts about the things you buy and use. They are here to prevent you from making mistakes. The Poets

By Mrs. Inez Hinkle

The poets that we Read about
Were sometimes queer
There is no doubt.

Perhaps the most
Of them were poor,
Otherwise there'd
Be no lure

To write a line
To their fellow man
Of hope and courage
That will help him stand.

Some may have clerked
In a saloon.
Then went out looking
For the moon

To get inspiration
To write the stuff
That some poor mortals
Call a bluff.

Edgar A. Guest
And Edgar Allen Poe
Have written some things
The world should know.

John Greenleaf Whittier
And Henry Wadsworth Longfellow
Had something to say
When their hearts were mellow.

The American poets
Are not yet so thick,
One can easily stir them
About with a stick.

You say everything has
Been said we can say,
But remember each poet
Has had his day.

They have written the things
That occurred in their time
Perhaps other poets
Will burst forth in rhyme.

There is no depression
Of the soul
Though the tempests rage
And the waters roll.

Looking just too adorably chic, Wheeler is shown here mincing along the thoroughfare with Carol Ann Beery, adopted daughter of Actor Wallace Beery. Carol, a staunch devotee of the trouser fad, seems to be a bit perturbed about something. She's probably afraid people will think Bert's her aunt.

This Spring, the Suit's the Thing

MANNISH-TAILORED CREATIONS AND SOFTLY TAILORED ONES WITH FEMININE TOUCHES WILL BE POPULAR

BY HARRIET

TAILORED togs are making tremendous inroads into all spring styles.

You can go the whole way and have a trim, mannish-tailored suit, clear-cut in its trim lines, well-set sleeves, wide lapels and tailored closing. Or you can have a softly tailored type of frock or suit, possibly with something feminine in the way of sleeve fullness, a fancy collar or fine seaming or tucking to distinguish it.

The tailored suit will be the big thing for spring. They are selling right this minute, for wear under coats and to be ready to dash forth unescorted by any topcoat when warm days blow 'round the corner.

Pin-striped worsted, almost invisible plaids, checks and novelty weaves will be worn. Plain blue, gray and black in lovely woolens and flannels will probably be the majority. Front closings can be single-breasted or double, straight or rounding in fancy cutaway fashion. And there are all kinds of tricky pockets and lapels to add a different touch.

Skirts with these suits have a slim, straight line but use pleats, either all the way down the front that flare to give lower skirt width or else have inverted pleats put in at about knee height. Many of them are wrap-arounds and some come with their neat belts stitched right on that you merely fasten with a button or snaps.

ILLUSTRATIVE of these new spring suits is this dark gray tailleur, with its double-breasted coat fastening low, its beautifully fitted shoulders and rolling lapels. The skirt is straight and has a deep pleat for bottom fullness. With it is worn a sweet light blue and gray striped silk shirt, made just like a man's, tails and all. Its collar has sharp points and a cute little self-tie that makes a bow. The braided straw sailor hat is perfect with it and has a novelty banding which has a gray and white checkered frontispiece to it.

Also tailored, but not so mannish, is the new coat of rustic black woolen, made straight and simple in silhouette. The young-looking collar and revers are of shiny satin-smooth galyac, an entire departure from the usual fur collar. Its cut as well as its freshness makes it a very youthful addition to the coat.

The sleeves are the new type that have fullness right at the elbow and then taper down gracefully to a cuff that fits tight. It is belted, and fastens on the side.

This is the type of coat that looks tremendously smart over printed spring frocks, or with a black frock that has white touches on it. It's a good, all-around type of coat to start spring with.

The hat is a roughish lacquered straw, made in the new low-crowned sailor style and sitting pretty nearly straight on the head. Its outer edge is rough, which gives it a jaunty look and really makes it far more becoming than a harsh, straight line. It has black grosgrain ribbon banding it, nothing else.

BEAUTY QUEEN AND COURT TO BE PRESENTED

Reception Follows Formal Coronation Last Part Of Ceremonies

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Program Includes Dance and Song Numbers; All Escorts Announced

As a climax to the most animated Le Mirage beauty contest in recent years, Miss Mary Helen Hardin, senior from Childress, Texas, will be crowned "Queen of the College" next Monday night, February 27, in a formal coronation ceremony to be held in the Administration Building Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Dr. J. A. Hill, it is planned, will perform the rites of coronation.

Chosen by Earl Carroll

Miss Hardin was chosen the most beautiful girl on the Campus by Earl Carroll, New York stage producer, early last month when photographs of the six leading contestants in the W. T. yearbook, Le Mirage, popular vote contest were submitted to him. The other beauties will be presented before a large West Texas audience as "Ladies in Waiting" to Her Majesty, the Queen.

Following is the order of their appearance and their escorts;

Miss Yvonne Thomas, Cousins Hall representative, escorted by Edwin Comer; Miss Roberta La Fon, Elapheian Literary Society, escorted by Hugh Currie; Miss Mary Martin, Pi Omega, escorted by Landon Donnell; Miss Mary Jo Gates, Randall Hall, escorted by C. W. Foote. Miss Esther Reeves, Cousins-Sesame, is not in college this term and will be unable to take part in the ceremony.

Flower Girls 'n Everything

Miss Hardin, who represented the student-body-at-large, will next appear, escorted by Gene Elo. She will be preceded by four dainty flower girls, Katherine Bowlen, Carolyn Black, Joy Frances Cain, and Peggy Bishir. Two young gentlemen, Albert Terry and Earl Lock Neff, will bear her train.

Keith Guthrie will act as master of ceremonies.

After the Crown has been placed upon the Queens red head, an assorted program of dance numbers by the Galle dancing team, Gene and Madelin, of Amarillo, and several vocal solos by Verlon Twaddell, also of Amarillo, will be Her Majesty's manner of entertaining a host of W. T. subjects.

Reception on Third Floor

Immediately following the Coronation, a reception will be held in the Home Economics receiving rooms on the third floor. The Queen and her Court will form the receiving line. It is expected that dancing will be in vogue in the Girls' Gym while awaiting attendance at the reception.

In sponsoring the occasion, the Pi Omegas, girls' student group, are attempting one of the first strictly formal affairs to be held on the W. T. Campus. It is hoped that the Coronation will be made an annual event which will fill a long felt vacancy in the versatility of student activities.

Those in Charge

Miss Dorothy Cash has charge of the Coronation; Miss Geneva Griffin heads the committee planning the reception; and Miss Virginia Jarrett is in charge of the flower arrangements. Miss Farris Sears, assisted by Prof. C. W. Batchelder, is in charge of the stage decorations and construction of the throne.

Contrary to persistent rumors, there is to be no admission charge. Students and their guests are urged to attend.

In the Babe and a Topnotch Hurling Staff, the Yanks Have What It Takes to Put Them Out in Front Again This Year

BY PHILIP MARTIN

MR. GEORGE HERMAN RUTH may serve to keep the New York Yankees on the front page during the dull winter season, but Marse Joe McCarthy has another ballgame-winning unit that's probably a lot more valuable than the Mighty One. That unit is his pitching staff.

The Yankee manager, during his brief career with the world champions, has quietly set about massing together a hurling corps that threatens to become the terror of the American league this season. And that staff is going to win a lot of ball games for Joe.

Other teams in the American League boast individual hurling stars who outshine members of McCarthy's clan. But it's doubtful if any set of hurlers, taken as a whole, is as good as Joe's bunch. Connie Mack has Lefty Grove, Cleveland has Wesley Ferrell, Washington has Alvin Crowder, and Detroit has Tommy Bridges. But these great pitchers themselves cannot hope to cope with the massed strength of the Yankee squad of hurlers.

• • •

JOE now has on hand the following:

Charles Ruffing, Johnny Allen, George Pipgras, Walter Brown, Danny MacFayden, Wilcy Moore, Don Brennan, Jimmy DeShong and Charley Devins, right-handers; and Lefty Gomez, Herb Pennock, Russell Van Atta and Marvin Duke, southpaws.

Gomez, Allen and Ruffing will probably be Joe's main attractions this season, with a lot of help from Pipgras, Pennock, and possibly MacFayden.

But Joe has two youngsters coming up who may set the league on fire before very long.

These boys are Russell Van Atta and Don Breman.

• • •

VAN ATTA was grabbed from St. Paul, in the American Association. Yankee Scout Paul Kirchell made the purchase, and his praise of the big southpaw was such that McCarthy lost no time in telling Kirchell to sew up the deal.

The youth won 22 games for the near tail-enders last season, no mean feat for any pitcher.

The former Penn State College flinger has a great fast ball, but it is generally agreed among players of the American Association that it is his slow ball and change of pace which makes him so effective.

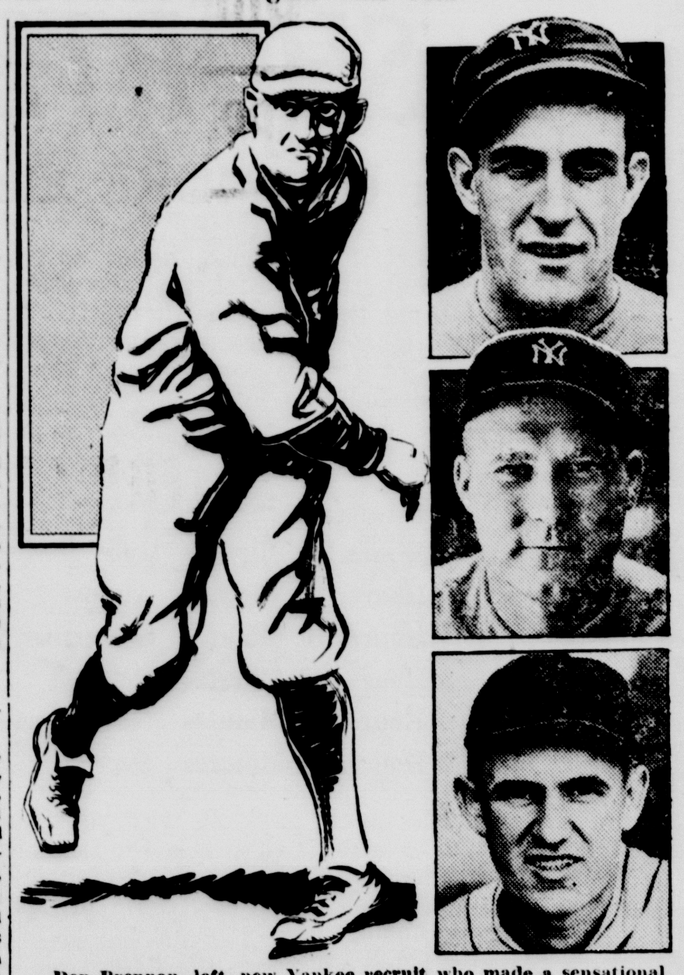
Despite his win percentage, Van Atta is still plenty wild. He walked 123 batters last season and McCarthy has turned him over to Coach Cy Young to see if some of that wildness can be taken out of him.

• • •

BRENNAN is said to have a better record than Van Atta. In the International League, playing with Newark last season, he scored 26 victories and ranked No. 1 in the earned run averages. Six of his victories were of the shutout variety.

The big right-hander was given credit for putting the spark in the Newark team that enabled it to step out and win the International league pennant, and the wise old Yankee leader figures a year in the big leagues will give Brennan all the confidence he needs to do the same stunt for Ruppert's crew.

If these two youngsters come to the aid of Gomez, Allen and Ruffing, the Yanks look like a good bet to repeat this season.



Don Brennan, left, new Yankee recruit who made a sensational hurling record with Newark last season, is one reason why the Yanks are expected to shine again this year. Three others are Johnny Allen, above, right; Charley Ruffing, center, and Lefty Gomez, below.

Rinlo, the famous movie dog, visited the school Wednesday afternoon and performed for the students. His master, Mr. Browning, was very kind to the dog and during each commandment the dog would either sit or stand, looking at his master as if he were listening intently. Rinlo jumped over chairs, acted like a dead dog, pretended that his foot was hurt, shook hands, knawed a rope in two and many other interesting things He ended his program by marching to some music and then climbing a ladder.

Fish and Juniors Enter Finals In Intramural Games

The seventh grade defeated the seniors Wednesday with a score of 21 to 24. Lester Clounch, captain and center of the seventh grade squad, was high point man with 13 points to his credit. The senior squad was composed of inexperienced players, and were unable to set a defense to stop the seventh grade.

The junior feminine sextet won an easy victory over the seventh grade with a score of 18 to 7. The seventh grade was much smaller than the junior squad, but showed much fight and ability to work together.

The freshmen eliminated the juniors from the competition in one of the most thrilling games of the season with a score of 15 to 17. Both teams exhibited ability to pass and work together. Three extra periods were needed to play off the tie. Jack Taylor took scoring honors with 6 points.

The sophomores won an easy victory over the freshman girls. Arneta Kirkpatric was high point scorer.

The semi-final game between the sophomores and seventh grade was an easy victory for the seventh grade. The score was 23 to 12. The sophomores were unable to penetrate the seventh grade defense.

The junior feminine squad won the semi-final game over the seniors, 15 to 13.

The freshmen and seventh grade will enter the finals Friday night. This should be a very good game, as both teams have worked very hard.

The junior and sophomore girls' teams will enter the finals. These two teams are evenly matched, and the game promises to be a close one.

Most of the students have taken a large amount of interest in the games. There has been a large crowd to see all of the games. Admission to the final game Friday night will be activity ticket or 10 cents. Everyone is urged to come out and see these two games.

Ex-Students

In the class which graduated from Canyon High School in 1917, there were two girls and four boys. Three of these boys were Fosters, and each of these were cousins. Those that graduated were Venie B. Moreland Jefferies of Petersburg, Texas; Sherman Prichard of Canadian; Berl Edwards Mayfield, who is now county clerk of Randall county; Gray Dean Foster, who is teaching in Colorado, Texas; Dewey Manis Foster, who is now employed in the local post office; and Robert Lee Foster, who is employed in the First State Bank of Canyon.

Several centuries ago, America was regarded by immigrants as "the promised land." But now it's the much-promised land.

Canyon Debaters Go To Semi-Finals In Amarillo Meet

In the Amarillo Speech Tournament last Friday and Saturday, the Canyon High School debaters made a very impressive showing in spite of the fact that they have not had much time to study the very broad question which is: Resolved, that at least one-half of all state and local revenues should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property. This subject is the subject of debaters among the high schools of many states this year.

In the preliminaries Friday afternoon, a defeat did not put a team out of the race. Due to this fact the Canyon boys team was able to continue debating Saturday in spite of the fact that they were defeated Friday by the Amarillo team.

Saturday morning, the Canyon boys Joe Collins and Ogden Stroud, defeated the Lubbock team; Saturday evening in the semi-finals the local boys lost to the Quanah team.

Quanah was defeated by Amarillo in the finals Saturday night.

The local girls defeated the McLean girls Friday afternoon only to come back Saturday morning and lose to the Amarillo girls. Armor Lee Greenfield and Robbie Lee Foster were the local girl debaters.

Third Grade Gives Program of Plays At Meet of P. T. A.

Miss Crawford's third grade room gave some plays at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association Thursday, Feb. 16.

Among the plays that were given was "Little Red Riding Hood." Under the direction of Miss Goodrich, these third graders gave some physical education exercises.

Another feature on the program was Mr. Carruth's talk on "The Future of Education in Texas."

During the business meeting, Fred Wortham presented a scheme for making money. This was turned over to a committee to act upon and their report has not yet been given.

What The School Clock Sees During School Hours

If a school clock could talk, what do you suppose it would tell? In the morning and at the end of each school hour the halls are crowded with students; some hurrying to their classes, others walking as slowly as the pushing of the crowd permits.

Boys and girls meet near, and sometimes even under the big clock to talk. What they say is known only to themselves and it. Large groups crowd around the bulletin board, reading and discussing the articles.

Teachers and students are waylayed in the hall and asked about various important matters. There is much discussion about every possible subject and much commotion, and the clock hears it all.

During school hours, everything is comparatively quiet. A few students and teachers pass up and down the hall, visitors come and go, and the clock ticks on and, much to the gratification of its students, never tells its secrets.

Canyon Debaters Encounter Pampa Team Next Friday

After several weeks of hard work two of Canyon's debate teams will go to Pampa Friday night. Having made very good showing thus far this year, Mr. Terry sees great prospects for all of his teams. Those going to Pampa are Katherine Robinson, Laura Fern Brian, Ogden Stroud, and Robert Black.

He who can devise a way to prevent a fool and his money from parting will make a fortune.

5 Ways To Save Money In Heating!

The amount of your gas bill is largely in your hands. During winter months, with house heating needs causing a constant demand for gas, you may make a real saving in your gas bill by following the suggestions given below. Help us to help you SAVE MONEY ON YOUR GAS BILL.

1. Don't turn gas up to a point where the flame goes over the top in open top heaters. This wastes gas.
2. Don't try to heat the breakfast room, or adjoining rooms with the range oven. A small gas heater will do the work better and cheaper.
3. If you keep a fire burning in the bath room, see that it is turned low after the room has become comfortably warm.
4. When shopping, or going out for the evening, close the windows, turning out all gas heaters. The house will retain most of its warmth.
5. Don't open doors or windows to cool the room—turn down the gas instead. A wall thermometer will assist you to keep rooms at a uniform temperature.

When Days Get SHORTER

You Use MORE Electricity

If your electric bill seems higher now you will understand why, if you but stop to think that the average family uses electric light three times longer during the winter than summer. The mellow light of the living room has a mighty strong appeal when the day's work is done . . . and that means extra service from the electric lights.

This chart shows the average number of hours in which the electric lights are used in the averaage home for each month in the year.

January	6 Hours, 32 Minutes	July	2 Hours, 36 Minutes
February	5 Hours, 38 Minutes	August	3 Hours, 9 Minutes
March	4 Hours, 10 Minutes	September	4 Hours, 00 Minutes
April	3 Hours. 48 Minutes	October	4 Hours, 54 Minutes
May	2 Hours, 57 Minutes	November	6 Hours, 11 Minutes
June	2 Hours, 33 Minutes	December	6 Hours, 51 Minutes

The chart quickly explains why your electric bill is higher for the winter months than it is for those of summer. But the small increase at this season is negligible if compared to the comfort and cheer which electricity brings to the long winter evenings at home.

Texas Utilities Company

Today the average cost for the home electric service is about 33 per cent lower than it was in 1915.

PAMPA WINNER DISTRICT ONE

Quitaque Is Runner-up In Second Straight Year's Meet

Playing through two days of fast basketball, the Pampa Harvesters captured the District One Interscholastic League basketball title on the Buffalo Gym floor Saturday night.

The Harvesters defeated the powerful Quitaque quintet in the finals by the score of 31 to 26.

The final game lacked the interest that was rampant in the two games played between the Amarillo Sandies and the Harvesters, because the Quitaque star, Graham, went out of the final tilt in the second quarter for four personal fouls.

Quitaque managed to hold the lead gained by Graham until the third period, when the scoring of Fullingem and Marbaugh, Pampa center and forward, put the Harvesters into a lead they did not relinquish. The score at the half was 16-15 in favor of Quitaque.

Pampa was thrown into the "losers" bracket by Amarillo in the first game played. The score was 12-10. In the same bracket, Borger went down before Quitaque by the margin of 24-22. In the advance game Friday night between Amarillo and Quitaque, Corbett, Sandie guard, took the game into an extra session by tying the score with a long shot. Graham, made three points in the extra period to win for his team by 24-21.

Pampa eliminated Borger easily, though the score was close, 33-30. Then the Harvesters and the Sandies tangled again, and this time the Pampa quintet reaped their revenge to the tune of 28-21, the largest difference in scores during the tournament.

From this game, the Harvesters went against the Quitaque team, and won the right to take the winner of District Two for the bi-district title and the right to enter the State Meet.

Undoubtedly the best forward on the tourney floor was Graham of Quitaque.

Corbett, of Amarillo, showed himself to be the best guard. The other three men who will probably be chosen for the mythical District One five, will probably be Woodard, of Pampa, forward, Kelley, of Pampa, guard, and either Fullingem of Pampa or Morris of Quitaque, center. Roos of Borger showed good ability in the center position, but his bad knee would prevent his taking the honor booth.

teachers colleges of Texas in accord with the amounts allowed those institutions for the last two years by your honorable body.

Salary Cuts Accepted

"We realize that in this period of necessary adjustment every person drawing a salary from the State of Texas in any capacity should expect a cut in salary; and we are ready and believe that this situation should be met, yet we know that the institutions we represent and that the property of Texas at the teachers colleges should be properly cared for.

"3. That the board of Regents has given consideration to both the recommendations made by the State Board of Education and the Legislative committee, in so far as they bear upon the State Teachers Colleges; and while we disagree with many of the drastic proposals thereof, we are of the opinion that they will provoke such general consideration and discussion as will probably result in the permanent improvement of our system of tax-supported higher education, and through these, our educational system as a whole. We further believe that whatever changes in our educational institutions are desirable in the interest of efficiency and economy can be best effected by those charged with the responsibility of administering them.

"4. In the judgment of the board, it would be presently advisable to apply a general reduction in appropriations to all institutions created for liberal educational purposes, along with all other departments, dependent upon public funds for support; bearing in mind the paramount importance of an educated citizenship, giving first consideration to the necessity of maintaining efficient elementary and high schools; that the board of regents with the sympathy of the responsible, heads of the State Teachers Colleges, are willing to use appropriated funds and all funds coming under their jurisdiction in the best possible way to omit or curtail activities in all fields, which can be presently put into effect with least injury to the institutions and the educational interests of the State, during the existence of conditions which confront our citizenship.

Oppose Experiments

"5. That the many perplexing problems which are to be solved do not warrant the experiment of abandoning or changing institutions and resorting to radical changes which are experimental in their nature and probably if carried out, would not reduce the demand for their support by either the State as a whole or communities which might consent to receive them.

"6. The changes, if any, in the educational system of Texas, could best be determined at a more propitious time with full opportunity for thorough and calm discussion of the interests involved."

Those attending were A. B. Mayhew, Uvalde; Henry Paulus, Yoakum; J. E. Josey, Houston; W. C. Crane, Franklin; Thos. Ball, Houston; J. E. Hill, Amarillo.

This aggregation has amassed the amazing average of 55 points a game against its opponents and has gained the reputation of being one of the highest scoring teams in the country. In 27 games they have won 25 and have amassed the staggering total of 1500 points, having broken all records in rolling up points against their league opposition.

The Pasadena Majors recently defeated the Wichita Henry's 41-35, and the Buffs split a two-game series with the Henry's. It is expected that the Giant Buff machine will have one of its toughest assignments when it lines up against the Majors.

PRINCIPALS IN MIAMI ATTACK

"World's Hardest Job" May Be Harder During FDR's Administration

EVEN in normal times a task so heavy it has been dubbed the "toughest job in the world," the presidency of the United States, assumed by Franklin D. Roosevelt on March 4, promises to be an unusually tremendous burden during the coming four years. Not only has the new president the normal routine and detail of the office to contend with, but he must also face a staggering array of new abnormal issues and situations.

Some of the great problems which the presidency brings to Roosevelt are the complications arising out of the world-wide economic situation, disarmament, uneasiness in the Far East, the questions of war debt and tariff revision, prohibition, U. S. tax rates, and relief of the farmers and unemployed. And these are but the most prominent.

With only these questions to handle, the presidency would be more than a man-size assignment. But tradition, an adoring public and a job which has grown more and more complicated through the years, has made the chief executive's task nothing sort of stupendous.

* * *

IN general, the primary duties of the president, as outlined by the Constitution, are that he be responsible for the execution of the laws, that he appoint all except elective federal officials, and that he act, theoretically, as a sort of listening post for Congress.

But Congress is constantly creating new commissions and bureaus responsible to the president. Merely to list these executive commissions and bureaus and their officers takes some 60 pages in the Congressional Directory.

All the cabinet departments must make regular reports to him, too, through the cabinet members, who have access to the president's attention at almost any time. The president must also preside over cabinet meetings regularly, and hear reports regularly from these officers, and the heads of the executive bureaus and commissions.

Probably the most annoying and trying details of the president's job are those which tradition has created. Until recently, for example, the commission of each notary public in the District of Columbia had to be signed by the president. And, as the "Great White Father," he had to sign the deeds and wills of every Indian who died.

The tremendous requirements of the "world's toughest job," the presidency, assumed by Franklin D. Roosevelt on March 4, will not leave him much opportunity to flash his famous carefree smile, pictured above.

Over his desk for signature pass expense accounts of United States marshals. He must sign numerous proclamations, executive orders, nominations to go to the Senate, messages to Congress, officers' commissions, letters of credence and recall of American ambassadors and ministers, extradition warrants, ratifications of treaties, applications for pardon, and so on. White House secretaries estimate that the yearly total of such official handwriting is 25,000 papers a year, or an average of 80 a day.

* * *

IN addition, there are little matters like reviewing troops, laying cornerstones, unveiling monuments, joining lodges, opening conventions, pushing buttons, and so on. And the president must greet or be photographed with many personages or delegations led by congressmen or enterprising press agents to the White House door. President Coolidge, for instance, shook hands as many as 500 times on some days.

Distribution of patronage and appointment of minor officials distract the president's mind. And thoughts of re-election or, at least, continuance of his party in power and maintenance of leadership in an often hostile Congress are always in the background. Another vexatious part of his job is the lack of privacy. Secret service men are always at his heels to protect him from harm.

Many plans have been proposed to lighten the presidential task, since it has been observed that it is becoming literally a killing job. The average life span of chief executives has decreased almost 20 years since the end of the 18th century. When President Harding died Woodrow Wilson told a caller that the burden of the presidency was not the job itself, but the "fretting" over details.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Sabbath School and the morning service will begin at the usual hours.

The Women's Auxiliary is sponsoring a stereopticon lecture which will be given at 7:45 Sunday evening. Subject: "China, Today and Tomorrow." The lecture will be by Miss Darthula Walker, of the College faculty. Everyone is cordially invited.

On Monday, February 27, the Auxiliary will hold an all-day meeting in the basement of the church, beginning at 9:30 a. m. The subject for study is "China." At noon there will be a covered-dish luncheon. Every woman in the church is invited to attend all or any part of the day's program. The Auxiliary is very anxious to make this a day of pleasant study and happy fellowship. You are not only invited to attend, but you are urged to be present.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Warwick Aiken, General Episcopal Missionary of North Texas, will preach at the Canyon Episcopal Church next Sunday night, Feb. 26th, at eight o'clock. Mr. Aiken is becoming a familiar figure in Canyon, and hopes to see again the friends he has made on former visits.

Next Wednesday, March first, is Ash Wednesday, and marks the beginning of Lent. It is hoped that Lenten services may be arranged, at intervals during the season, as in former years. Due notice will be given of such services, to which all Christians of other communions will be invited.

LIPSCOMB TO PREACH

Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, presiding elder, will preach next Sunday night at the local Methodist church. He will hold the second quarterly conference following the preaching services.

An item from Naples, Italy, states that two strong earth shocks were felt in the neighborhood of Mt. Vesuvius. Probably only Mussolini emphasizing a point.
